

KANSAS CITY FIRE
COSTS A MILLIONREID BROTHERS BIG PACKING PLANT BURNED.

Blaze Broke Out in the Hog Building and Spread Rapidly—The Loss Will Reach $600,000 and the Stock a Million More—Fire at Omaha.

Kansas City, Mo., March 25.—Fire last night broke out in the hog building of the Reid Packing Co.'s plant at Kansas and Railroad avenues, Kansas City, Kas., and only one small building was saved, causing a loss of over $1,000,000.

The flames from the hog building, which was where the fire originated, communicated with the engine house on the south and soon wrecked the boilers and destroyed the effectiveness of the company's fire apparatus. A disastrous explosion was narrowly averted by the firemen, who, at the risk of life, rolled twenty barrels of gasoline from the buildings.

From the engine building the fire spread to five one-story icehouses, each 200 by 125 feet. These were rapidly destroyed by the flames, and the four-story storage building, which was in line, fell a prey to the element of destruction. There were $100,000 worth of meats in the basement of this building. The fire leaped from room to room and roared and crackled until the roof fell in and the flames shot fifty feet in the air.

At this point the Kansas City, Mo., fire department was appealed to for assistance and six hose companies and two engines responded. The water tower from the Armour Packing company also assisted. At 7:30 o'clock the west wall of the hog building fell with a crash. The flames burst over the bridge connecting the storehouse with the beef house and the bridge burned fiercely. The firemen turned their whole attention to saving the beef house and a dozen streams were turned on to the burning bridge.

Notwithstanding the strenuous efforts of the firemen, section after section of the bridge was partly destroyed and finally fell to the ground, while the work of destruction was completed. Finally the beef house caught fire and the firemen were powerless to stay the greedy flames as they ate their way into the building through the bridge.

When it was seen the entire plant was in imminent danger of complete destruction more aid was called for and the entire force on the ground was turned to saving the warehouse. In a short time the building and contents were saved and then the firemen concentrated their efforts on the storage house, which was burning fiercely. A heavy wind coming up caused the flames to burn with renewed fury and within twenty minutes the roof fell in and soon thereafter the south and west walls toppled over. But a little time elapsed before the building was a complete wreck. At 10:15 the fire was brought under control, but as a heavy wind was blowing the firemen were kept on duty to avoid any possibility of the fire spreading.

The entire plant is valued at $600,000, while the estimate placed on the stock ranges from $800,000 to $1,000,000. The loss on the buildings destroyed will probably reach $400,000 to $500,000, and that on the meats, oil, lard, and other products consumed will bring the total to over $1,250,000. The insurance is ample to cover the losses. Four men were slightly injured.

AMID RAGING FLAMES.
An Omaha Man Meets a Terrible Death at the Hands of Fire.

Omaha, Neb., March 25.—Cornelius McGuire, a well-known machinist, was yesterday virtually burned to death in his shop, where he was sleeping. The doors and windows had been barred from the outside and the house was fired by some unknown person. McGuire was awakened by the roaring of the flames. Unable to get out the front door, he rushed through the fire to the rear, but found the heat and smoke there stifling. The night clothes of McGuire were on fire and his body was being burned in a horrible manner. Crazed with pain, he made a last effort to escape and again rushed through the flames to the front part of the building, where, gathering all the remaining strength he had, he hurled his body against the door and burst it open. With the flesh peeling from his legs, arms and hands he made his way a block distant, where with his cries he aroused the fireman. He died soon after. Friends of McGuire stated they knew of no one that was an enemy of his, and that all of his acquaintances seemed to think a great deal of him.

Death Roll at Denver Is Complete.
Denver, Colo., March 25.—At first it was supposed six men had lost their lives in the burning of the St. James' hotel Saturday night, but four is the complete list. They are: BRAWLEY, S., LIEUT. DANDEY, RICHARD, fireman. HARTWELL, HAROLD, CAPT. MARTIN, STEVE, fireman.

All were members of hose company No. 3, and all except Capt. Hartwell were colored. They went down with the floor of the rotunda and were horribly mangled and burned.

There were 165 guests in the hotel, all of whom escaped uninjured.

The damage is $40,000, about half on the building and half on the furniture. There was $12,000 insurance.

Loss Covered by Insurance.
Indianapolis, Ind., March 25.—In an interview Mr. Samuel Reid, one of the firm of Reid Brothers, owners of the burned Kansas City plant, said the loss was fully covered by insurance. As to rebuilding, he said the directors would decide it, but there was little question but that the plant would be replaced at once.

San Creodon and Baker Matched.
St. Louis, Mo., March 25.—Don Creodon, middleweight, of this city, has been matched to fight with Henry Baker, heavyweight, of Chicago. The fight will come off Monday night, April 1, in Chicago.

LOTS OF WORK AHEAD.

Forecast for the Week in the Illinois Legislature.

Springfield, Ill., March 25.—The coming week in the house promises to be devoid of any special interest. The calendar is burdened with house bills on the order of second reading, and much of the time will be devoted to the consideration of these. The time for the introduction of bills now being past, all the subjects on which legislation is proposed are now definitely known, and he bills now in the hands of the committees will be rapidly disposed of. Mr. Kitzmiller's resolution denouncing the pension policy of the present administration will come up in the house again Wednesday, and will probably be adopted by a party vote. It is probable that the house committee on drainage and waterways will this week take up the subject of legislation for the Chicago drainage department. An important bill which will come up on third reading is that of Mr. Pickrell declaring ex-press companies common carriers and placing them under the control of the railroad and warehouse commission on the same footing as railroad companies. The school teachers' pension bill is on the order of second reading in the house and will no doubt be passed.

The senate will have under consideration a number of bills on third reading. Among the most important of these is that of Senator Wall fixing the compensation of the members of the general assembly. Since the vote to reconsider this bill it has been amended to provide that the members shall receive $800 instead of $1,000. It is quite probable that it will be passed. The following appropriation bills will also come up on their passage this week: Senator Howell's, appropriating $28,000 to the State Normal university annually for two years; Senator Barnes, appropriating $400 as the claim awarded to the McLaughlin heirs; Senator Chapman, appropriating $170,000 for the ordinary expenses and improvements for the state penitentiary at Joliet; the committee bill appropriating $3,000 to pay nine inspectors; the committee bill appropriating $423,000 toward the expenses and improvements of the state university.

A most important measure on second reading is the bill of Senator Hamer to prevent and punish the adulteration of drugs, food, drink or confectionary. The bill is of unusual scope. The bill provides a penalty of $50 for the first offense and $100 for each subsequent offense as a fine for conviction of violating the provisions of the bill. Senator Coon's bill raising the age of consent from 14 to 16 years was amended in the judiciary committee last week to 18 years and will soon come up at the foot of the calendar on second reading. It is the general opinion that the bill cannot pass.

INCOME TAX DECISION.

Possibility of a Ruling To-day by the National Supreme Court.

Washington, March 25.—The recess of the United States Supreme court terminates today, but as this is the day on which the court usually hands down decisions there are some who think a decision may be given them on the income tax cases. It is understood the members of the court have been in consultation concerning these cases, and while it would be most unusual for them to come to a conclusion on so important a matter soon after the conclusion of the argument, it is suggested the exigencies of the government are such that a special effort will be made in the present instance. There appears to be a growing belief that the law will be sustained by the court when the decision is announced, and members of congress, both among those who advocated and those who opposed the law when it was before congress as a part of the tariff bill, generally express themselves to this effect. They appear to hold this belief principally on the faith that the court will be loath to interfere with the prerogative of the law-making, to provide means of securing revenue. Lawyers generally hold that the Moore case will be thrown out on the technicality that a collector can not be enjoined from enforcing a law. This point has been several times decided in the court, and it appears quite uniformly against proceeding in that way.

To Clear Indian Reservation.

Omaha, Neb., March 25.—The interior department will tolerate no longer the illegal occupation of lands of the Omaha and Winnebago Indian reservations in Nebraska. A bill has been filed by the United States Attorney in Omaha asking for an injunction against all of the lessees, and also asking for an order restraining them from interfering with the Indian agent in the discharge of his duties toward his charges, and touching this reservation, commanding them to vacate the lands, and restraining them from leasing any of the lands from the Indians or from one another. No trouble is anticipated from the occupants to the execution of the orders of the court.

Tranquil in Peru.

Lima, Peru, March 25.—The provisional government has been recognized by Pedro A. Sola, who was the legal first vice president under President Bermudez. Lima is carefully patrolled by the guard. The troops of Caceres are still under arms and are marching to the positions assigned them under the agreement for an armistice. The Caceres adherents in Callao have not yet submitted, but there is no disturbance there. The wife and daughters of Caceres took refuge in the British legation. They will probably be escorted to Callao by a British guard, and will then be placed on board a British man-of-war.

Fatal Explosion in a Colliery.

Hartshorn, Ohio, March 25.—Two miners, Joe Bailey and Steve Ellsworth, were working in the same room of the Indianola coal mine. Each fired a blast. One went off, and the other failed. Bailey went to make an examination. Just as he got there the blast exploded, blowing his head off, fatally injuring Ellsworth, and seriously wounding two other miners.

Unitarian Celebration.

Binghamton, Mass., March 25.—The 150th anniversary of the foundation of the Second Parish Unitarian church was celebrated last night in the meeting-house which was erected in 1742 and which is one of the oldest churches in New England.

BULLETS FOR CHANG
INSTEAD OF PEACECHINESE ENVOY SHOT BY A JAPANESE.

Wound Is Not Thought to be Serious and the Young Man Who Fired the Shot Is Locked Up—Fatal Storm in Great Britain—Heard At Washington.

Shimonoseki, March 25.—As Li Hung Chang, the Chinese peace envoy, was returning to his lodgings in this place yesterday, after having attended a conference with Count Ito and Viscount Mutsu, the Japanese peace plenipotentiaries, a young Japanese fired a pistol at him. The bullet sped straight, but apparently did no more harm than to inflict a wound in Li Hung Chang's face.

The attempt to assassinate the representative of the Emperor of China caused the most intense excitement, and on every side there were expressions of deep regret. The would-be murderer was arrested. It is believed he was prompted to the crime by misguided patriotism.

Li Hung Chang was shot in the cheek. It is believed that the wound is not serious. Prime Minister Ito has telegraphed to Hiroshima asking that Dr. Sato, the imperial physician, be sent to Shimonoseki to attend the Chinese commissioner. The ministers of state and a number of other officials have visited Li Hung Chang and expressed their deep sorrow at the occurrence. Every precaution has been taken by the police and military to prevent any trouble. The name of the would-be assassin is Koyama. He is 21 years old.

The incident may lead to the breaking off of the peace negotiations, which were proceeding so satisfactorily, or at least may postpone further action in this direction until Japan's envoy has made proper reparation.

FATAL STORM IN GREAT BRITAIN.

People Killed at Several Points and Much Damage Done to Property.

London, March 25.—A terrific gale set in late Saturday night and is still prevailing. The storm is general throughout Great Britain. There has been immense damage to property in many of the large towns. Pinnacles, roofs, and chimneys of a number of churches were blown off and many manufacturing buildings were damaged. In many places church services were suspended. A great number of trees were prostrated by the wind and the last week to 18 years and will soon come up at the foot of the calendar on second reading. It is the general opinion that the bill cannot pass.

In Wallisall two chimney stacks were blown over. They crashed through the roof of a hospital, broke through the flooring, and carried nine beds with patients in them into a room beneath. As quickly as possible the work of clearing away the wreckage was commenced and it was soon found that nobody had been killed. The nine occupants of the beds were extricated alive but badly injured.

At King's Lynn immense damage was done to property. A great number of fine trees and several farm buildings at Sandringham, the country residence of the Prince of Wales, near King's Lynn, were destroyed.

HEARD AT WASHINGTON.

Excitement Among Diplomats Over the Assault on Li Hung Chang.

Washington, March 25.—The news of the assault on Li Hung Chang caused a sensation in diplomatic circles in this city. Cases where an envoy of any kind has been assaulted in the line of duty to which he is accredited are rare, and those in which a peace commissioner is attacked are almost unheard of in modern days. The opinion here is that Japan will suffer greatly as a consequence of the assault, and that the position of China will be so strengthened that it may be able to secure better terms of peace than it otherwise could have hoped for.

No news of the attack on Li Hung Chang has been received by the Japanese legation here and Minister Kurino was unwilling to discuss the occurrence. The members of the legation realize that it is a serious matter, but hope the first reports may prove to be exaggerated. They say no one will deplore such an affair more than the Japanese themselves.

The Chinese legation received prompt notification of the matter by the telegraph. The Chinese legation realized that it was a serious matter, but hope the first reports may prove to be exaggerated. They say no one will deplore such an affair more than the Japanese themselves.

Small Hunt by Train Robbers.

Victor, Colo., March 25.—The masked robbers who held up the Florence and Cripple creeks southbound train just outside this city last Saturday night did not obtain much plunder. A thousand dollars at the most is all they secured. Last night Bob Taylor, an ex-deputy sheriff employe of the Strong mine, who shot a bartender in Pueblo during the railroad trouble last summer, and a young man called "The Kid," working for the same company, were arrested. "The Kid" is alleged to answer to the description of the man who climbed over the tender and held up the engineer.

Will Act on Official Information.

Washington, March 25.—Pending developments in various foreign complications which have caused the state department so much anxiety during the last week the administration is resting on its oars. While there has been no marked improvement in any of the big questions which have threatened serious foreign entanglements there appears to be an easier feeling among administration officials regarding their adjudication. But this is mainly due to the fact that the status of each case is such that nothing radical can be done until information has been received from the several countries involved.

IT LOOKS LIKE WAR
OVER IN CANADAMBNITOBA DEFIES THE DOMINION GOVERNMENT.

Greenway and All His Ministers Definitely Declare That They Will Resist to the Better End the Restoration of the Catholic Schools—History of the Case.

Winnipeg, Man., March 25.—Greenway and all his ministers definitely declare that they will resist to the bitter end the restoration of Catholic schools. The excitement is intense. In the churches yesterday preachers confined their remarks to the impending struggle. Protestant preachers urging Protestants to stand firm against the remedial order issued by the governor-general of Canada last week, and the Catholic clergy appealing to their flocks to never give up the fight. A few who foresee the consequences are urging moderation, but the spirit of faction is so fierce their counsels are unheeded.

The Manitoba legislature is awaiting the receipt of the order which is expected to arrive from Ottawa to-day, without doubt the legislature will refuse to obey it by an overwhelming majority. Then will come open conflict between the provincial and dominion governments. It seems now that if an attempt is made to enforce the governor-general's order of revolution will be inevitable. Upon entering the Confederation of Canadian provinces twenty-five years ago the population of Manitoba consisted almost entirely of French Roman Catholics. Sir John A. Macdonald brought about the union, Sir Donald A. Smith conducting the negotiations. After the half-breed rebellion had been suppressed the French and Catholics finally consented to the union, Sir Donald A. Smith giving a pledge for the government that their schools and language would not be interfered with. Twenty years after, in consequence of the immigration from England and the other Canadian provinces, the Catholics found themselves very largely outnumbered by the Protestants.

In 1890 there was introduced in the legislature a measure abolishing Catholic parochial schools and establishing what is called a national school system, but which Catholics contend is a Protestant school system. Then began a legal battle in the courts, the Catholic majority of Quebec coming to the aid of their coreligionists in Manitoba, making it a Dominion fight. The Supreme court of Canada, sitting at Ottawa, declared that Roman Catholics have a constitutional right to their schools. The Manitoba government carried an appeal to the Privy Council of England, the highest tribunal in the realm, which decided that Catholics, as such, have no constitutional rights. The Catholics appealed for redress to the Dominion government which dodged a dangerous political issue by saying it had no power to interfere. Back the Catholics went to the Privy Council, which declared that the Catholics of Manitoba have a constitutional right to their schools, and that it is within the power of the Dominion government to grant them remedial legislation. The Catholics thereupon again appealed to the Dominion government. There was a bitter conflict in the cabinet, but finally the governor-general, on the advice of the Dominion ministers, issued a remedial order directing the government of Manitoba to restore the Catholic parochial schools. This is the order which is likely to precipitate a revolution.

SPANIARDS IN A TRAP.

Cubans Give Their Masters a Severe Set-back at Bayamo.

Port Tampa, Fla., March 24.—The latest steamship from Cuba brings authentic news. An eye witness to an engagement at Bayamo speaks of the Spanish forces being ambushed at Bayamo and Ellore with serious losses. Manzanillo was barricaded. Impromptu forts were erected to protect valuable property. The country residents are fleeing to the cities. Two thousand Spanish troops have arrived at Santiago. Four Spanish regiments were involved in the battle which came off March 15. The insurgents were under command of Santocilla. The Spaniards' loss was exceedingly heavy. They were routed completely, and the Cubans notified the Spanish authorities to send for the dead and wounded. The number of the Cuban band is unknown.

Around Canto River section the whole country is under the sway of rebel influences. Bands of these are marching toward Lasunas de Victoria and Puerto Principe, growing stronger as they march. A strong band of insurgents is on the northern coast daily expecting an expedition from the United States. These insurgents are to assist in the debarkation of such an expedition the moment of its arrival. The insurrection movement does not appear to be received with favor by people in the fields, who are moving into the cities. All kinds of work is suspended. The cutting of high grade timber has stopped, from the fact that numbers of cutters are with the insurgents and others dare not enter the forests for such purposes. The insurgents do not allow of the movement of cattle, keeping them in their regular pastures.

McDonald Has Blackmailers Indicted.

San Francisco, Cal., March 25.—The grand jury has indicted William Jennings, John Gamaga, a detective, and D. M. Black for attempting to blackmail Richard H. McDonald, Jr., formerly vice-president of the defunct Pacific Pacific bank. Black told McDonald that Jennings had possession of certain documents, which, if placed in evidence at McDonald's next trial for forgery in connection with the Pacific bank statements would send the defendant to prison. The information was offered to McDonald for $1,250, which was to protect him from damaging testimony.

To Avenue the Meneage Man.

Tacoma, Wash., March 25.—The Puyallup and Nisqually Indians have decided to go on the warpath and avenge the killing of Medicine Man Jim Fouchette, who was murdered by Jerry Dompick of the Muckleshoot reservation three weeks ago, because three of his children had died after Jim treated them. There being no witnesses, Jerry has been dismissed by the authorities. This will be the first uprising in forty years.

MURUAGA MUST LEAVE.

Spanish Minister May Be Given a Chance to Resign.

Washington, March 25.—The Spanish Minister must go; the Hawaiian Minister must go; the dispute between Great Britain and Nicaragua will be settled without violation of the Monroe doctrine or without recourse to force; the Venezuela boundary dispute is reserved for future consideration. Such is the diplomatic situation up to date.

Since the first news published of the entente discord between Secretary Gresham and the Spanish Minister and followed it up with the statement that the Spanish Minister would have to go, various contradictions, some of them alleged to be based on high official authority, have been made. It is now said upon the authority of a gentleman who talked with President Cleveland last night on the subject, that the Spanish Minister will certainly terminate his official connection with this country in a short time. That termination will be practically a recall, though nominally it may be due to the wish of the minister himself.

The administration cares little about the order of his going so long as he goes. The statement about an ultimatum having been sent to Spain is incorrect. This administration is satisfied that Spain will exercise all due haste in tendering an official reply to Secretary Gresham's demand. It is not expected that a reply will come, however, till after Spain receives the official report of the incident from her representatives in Cuba. Should undue delay follow the receipt of that report Secretary Gresham will doubtless send another note requesting an immediate reply. But in view of the internal troubles which Spain is now having it is not proposed to exercise undue haste in the matter.

Thurston's recall may not come by the next steamer, but if it does not come by the steamer following his passports will be given him.

The statement regarding the peaceful dispute between Great Britain and Nicaragua is based on information received from Ambassador Bayard. The statement concerning the Venezuelan boundary dispute is based on authoritative information given by one of the most prominent officials of the administration.

A BODY BLOW TO TRUSTS.

National Harrow Company Decided to Be an Illegal Combination.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 25.—Judge Paker's decision Saturday is considered a body blow to trusts. It was in the case of the National Harrow company of New Jersey, with principal office in Utica, N. Y., against Quick and E. Lindahl of Chestertown, Ind., dealers in agricultural implements, for selling spring tooth harrows manufactured by the Turner Manufacturing company of La Grange, Ind., claiming the implements infringed the Reed spring tooth harrow patent. About eight hundred times has this patent been sued on and this is about the twentieth case where a hearing has been had. The defendants in this suit raised the question that the complainant is a combination or trust attempting to hold and use its naked legal title as assignee of the patent for purposes contrary to public policy and that a court of equity ought not to aid its unlawful purposes by entertaining a suit on a patent which has been assigned to it for such purposes. The contention of the defense was endorsed by the court. This decision strikes at the life of the trust and undermines the value of its property, consisting, it is understood, almost wholly of about eighty-five harrow patents. It applies also to all trusts based on a similar business scheme. The same company has begun a large number of suits on its patents this winter, several being against agricultural dealers at Crawfordsville, Winchester, and elsewhere.

Jamaica to Increase Its Tariff.

Washington, March 25.—There is an intimation of the levying of increased taxes on American imports into Jamaica in a copy of the annual message to the legislative council of the governor of that island transmitted to the state department by United States Consul Eckford at Kingston. The significant paragraph reads: "The withdrawal of the government of the United States of America from the reciprocal arrangements with this colony entered into in 1891, and the reimposition of the duty on sugar, leaves us free to restore to our tariff some of the sources of revenue abandoned under that arrangement."

Killed to Hush Some Secret.

Omaha, Neb., March 25.—Attorney-General Churchill has been investigating the killing of Mrs. Holton and in an interview here says: "I think the work was done by two men, and was a clear case of murder, evidently committed for motives not known at this time. I believe she was strangled to hush some secret forever. I hardly think her knowledge of who committed certain petty thieving was sufficient to inspire any man or men to commit murder. She was evidently killed in the night."

Kills a Non-Union Man.

Tarentum, Penn., March 25.—Ever since the non-union men were brought here to take the places of the strikers at C. L. Flaccus' glass works numerous fights have taken place, and culminated last night in the murder of Kerney Sutton, a non-union man, by a mob armed with fence rails and revolvers. Sutton was beaten into insensibility and died at 3:30 in the morning. Sutton came from Dunkirk, Ind. He was 50 years of age. No arrests have been made.

Important Outlet Complete.

Galveston, Texas, March 25.—The last spike on the La Porte, Houston and Northern road has been driven. This road runs from Houston to La Porte, Tex., on Galveston Bay and connects the terminal and belt road and gives all roads an outlet to deep water.

New Coal Railroad in Virginia.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 25.—The people of this county have subscribed $150,000 toward the building of a railroad from the coal fields of West Virginia through this place to tide water.

BAD STORIES TOLD
ABOUT A PASTORA WHITEWATER PREACHER
MAKES UGLY CHARGES.

Rev. J. G. Schindler Alleges that Rev. A. C. Greir of Racine Defamed His Character and that Rev. F. W. Miller of Whitewater Practiced Fraud and Dishonesty.

Milwaukee, March 25.—Charges will be preferred today by Rev. J. G. Schindler, of Whitewater to the fellowship committee of the Universalist church of Wisconsin, against Rev. A. C. Greir, of Racine, for alleged defamation of Schindler's character, and against Rev. F. W. Miller, of Whitewater, for alleged fraud and dishonesty. The case creates a sensation in church circles.

BUY AND SELL WOMEN.

Coke Workers in Pennsylvania Exposed in Shocking Immorality.

Washington, March 25.—Income tax case of immorality has been exposed here. Rosa Ferari brought suit against Giuseppe Santo for assault and battery and desertion. Near Dunbar, at the ovens of the Anchor Coke works, there are about seventy-five Italians employed. They live in three houses and there are only three women in the colony. Rosa Ferari first came to the colony with Antonio Sannetti, who sold her to another Italian. The woman was sold three times. Giuseppe Santo was the last purchaser. He gave three kegs of beer for Rosa. A fight followed the beer drinking, and he threw the woman out of the house. She then entered suit. It is said sales have been made of the other two women in the colony in like manner, and a full investigation into the immorality of the foreigners will be made.

INCOME TAXES ROLL IN.

Estimates of Congress Far Exceeded by Returns Already Made.

Dunbar, Pa., March 25.—A startling return is pouring into the office of the commissioner of internal revenue at such a rate as to make the income tax division a beehive of industry and activity. These returns, it is stated, are much more numerous than were calculated upon in the first estimate submitted to congress as the basis of action. The estimate then was that 80,000 corporations and individuals were subject to the tax. After the law passed and the estimates of the fifty-eight collectors of internal revenue were compiled it was found that they aggregated 490,000 returns from corporations and individuals. This estimate is considered entirely too high, and if the income tax is paid by 240,000 individuals and corporations it is believed the law will have been more generally enforced than is usual with a new enactment of this kind when first put into operation.

Colombia's Triumph Doubled.

New York, March 25.—The Herald's correspondent at Panama, Colombia, sends the following: "Reports relative to the revolution in the interior continue reassuring. The government, however, has published no confirmation of the reported surrender of the revolutionists at Santader and Boyaca, and this causes some doubt that the government's triumph has been complete. Reports are circulated of fresh battles with the insurgents in Calland Buga, department of Cauca."

Broken Needle Kills a Baby.

Vinita, L. I., March 25.—Mrs. James Vaughan was sewing on her sewing machine when the needle snapped. She put in a new needle and continued her work. About ten minutes later she noticed that her 2-year-old daughter sat rather quiet on the floor, and called to it, but received no answer. She picked the child up and found to her horror that it was dead. A physician found that a small part of the machine needle had struck the baby in the eye and penetrated the brain.

Lost Her Propeller.

Jacksonville, Fla., March 25.—The British steamship Greetland, of Quebec, is four miles south of St. John's bar, with her propeller gone. Capt. Couillard reports that at 12:40 o'clock on the morning of March 16, in latitude 24.40, longitude 80, the steamer broke her shaft and the screw was lost. Sail was made and she finally reached St. John's Bay. She has a general cargo for the Munson line, of New York, for Cardenas, and left New York on March 9.

Foreign Claims to Be Paid.

New York, March 25.—The Herald correspondent in Rio Janeiro, Brazil, sends word that the foreign claims growing out of the late revolution have been settled with the exception of the amounts of money to be paid. The government intends to send the vice president to Rio Grande do Sul to make an effort to restore peace there at any price.

Bullet in His Brain.

New York, March 25.—The physicians at the Manhattan hospital are much interested in the case of George Suesenbach, a German, who attempted suicide in Central park by shooting himself in the head just one month ago and who is rapidly recovering in spite of the fact that the bullet still lies embedded in his brain.

Japanese Take Union Men's Places.

San Francisco, Cal., March 25.—A new feature has been injected into the sailors' strike by the shipping of crews composed of Japanese. The union seamen, who are demanding an increase of $5 a month in pay, view this move of the shipowners with apprehension. The association is determined to defeat the union sailors in their fight for better wages.

A BRAVE ENGINEER IS "AL" SELLECK.

RAN AN ENGINE 38 YEARS WITH-OUT AN ACCIDENT.

He Also Pulled the First Train Load of Confederate Prisoners That Were Transferred Through Chicago to Camp Douglas—Sketch of His Life On The Rail.

To a Janesville locomotive engineer belongs the distinction of having hauled the first train load of confederate prisoners that were transferred through Chicago to Camp Douglas; and having run an engine for thirty-eight years without a serious accident.

Albert R. Selleck is the man. Mr. Selleck lives at 213 West Bluff street, and has made Janesville his home for many years. The Chicago Inter Ocean of this morning gives his railroad history as follows:

Among the first confederate prisoners that were sent north during the opening year of the rebellion were several hundred that were quartered for a time at Madison, Wis. They were afterward transferred to Camp Douglas. Albert R. Selleck, the engineer of the Chicago & Northwestern railway who ran the train carrying the prisoners from this to Camp Douglas, still remains in the employ of the company.

"I remember the incident well," said the engineer. "The prisoners were brought from Madison and transferred here for the camp. There were sixteen or eighteen freight cars in which they were locked, with two guards for each car. I pulled them over to Camp Douglas, but for some reason the officer in command would not receive them that night. So they had to be brought back and the train was sidetracked in the yards for the night. The following day they were taken out of the cars and marched across the city to the camp. I should have felt more pity for the poor fellows if it hadn't been that I came in for a good share of the roasting with which they favored every one that came in contact with them. I never received such abuse and tongue lashing before or since. It was raining hard that night and their quarters in the box cars were anything but comfortable. As I remember, most of the prisoners were boys and old men, and a more ragged lot you could not imagine. Half of them were sick, too, but their spirits remained unbroken and they gloried in suffering for the cause."

Al Selleck is the oldest engineer of the Chicago and Northwestern company on the Wisconsin division. Born in Cayuga county, New York, in 1838, he came west with his parents, who settled at Kenosha, Wis., when he was four years old. It was not known as Kenosha then, but was called Southport. When he was nineteen years old, Selleck secured a fireman's position. In a year and a half he was advanced to engineer, and ran his first engine out of Chicago in 1858, thirty-seven years ago.

Fireman Away Back in 1857. "My first job on the road was that of fireman in 1857," said Selleck, as he sat in the cab of his big Schenectady engine, No. 625, waiting for the signal to pull out for Janesville.

"There was a stretch of road about twenty-eight miles long running from Fond du Lac to Minnesota Junction. It was called the Chicago, St. Paul and Fond du Lac, and had just been changed then from what was known as the old Rock River Valley road. It is now a portion of the Chicago and Northwestern system. So you see I started practically with the Northwestern people and have been with them ever since. I fired the first switch engine on the road at Fond du Lac. In eighteen months I was given an engine on the passenger from Chicago to Janesville, and here I am yet after thirty-seven years."

One would hardly imagine that the engineer had seen so many years of hard service. His 57 years rest lightly upon him, and his brown hair, mustache and imperial of the same color show just the slightest trace of gray. Stalwart in physique, straight as an athlete, and bronzed as a cowboy, he looks on life's shifting scenes out of warm blue eyes that do not belie the kindly disposition that lies behind.

"Have you had any accidents lately?" was asked. "Do you see that?" pointing to where his foot rested, where the floor of the cab appeared to be badly splintered and torn up. "My foot was resting on that very spot the 13th of last month when the side rod broke and smashed up through the floor. It knocked off the whole side of the cab but some way I escaped with only a slight shaking up. My fireman, Will Brown, was not so fortunate. As a piece of casting struck him below the knee and cut him so badly that he only got back to work this week.

Had Had His Share of Wrecks. "Have you been in many wrecks?" "Well, yes, I must admit that I have had my share. I have been in collisions, have rolled over with my engine twice, have had a fireman killed beside me, have had a whole train ditched behind me, but through it all I have by some hook or crook escaped without a scratch.

"It was six years ago that my fireman was killed. It occurred out at Carey Station, Ill., coming into Chicago upon the same train I am running now. The section hand had just put in a new switch there but had not yet changed the target. They had turned the switch for the side track to see if it was all right, and had forgot and left it that way. The men were at work on the track tamping the ties and did not notice the danger. As the old target showed a clear track I had not thought of anything wrong until I was right at the switch. I had barely time to reverse and throw the engineer's valve when we were onto the side track and smashed into loaded freight cars standing there. The fireman undertook to jump, but just as he got into the gangway the crash came. He was caught between the tender and the cab and his left leg was cut off at the thigh almost as if by a knife. He lived about three hours. Poor Dave Kirkwood; he was a bright, whole-souled young fellow, and had been with me about a year and a half. I stuck to the cab myself—because I couldn't do anything else, I suppose—and was not injured. The airbrakes had worked to perfection, and the speed had been checked a good deal, so that the engine was not very badly wrecked.

Engine Turned Over With Him. "The first time my engine turned over with me was when I was on the St. Paul run, about twelve years ago. Went off a switch that time, and going like old Harry. It happened at Montrose. That was the name of the station then, but it is now called Mayfair Junction. The switch was wrong and it was supposed at the time that I did not see it, but it was afterward proved different. A trackman had been using the switch, in shifting some cars of oil to the side track and had forgotten and left it open. When he saw the passenger coming he ran and threw the switch just before I reached it. But it happened that one of his men, seeing the switch left open, had taken it upon himself to close it. At the investigation which followed the wreck all that I could say was the switch was closed, but just as I got to it I found it was open. It was assumed that I was mistaken in my first look. It was not until one of the men who knew the circumstances fell out with his boss over a year after and came to me with the truth that I really knew myself how it happened as it did. I should have told Master Mechanic Tilden about it in order to square myself with him for what he always presumed was a piece of carelessness on my part, but he died the very week that I learned the truth, and I never said anything about it to others."

"You haven't said how you came out of the accident," was suggested. "Why, I came out of it just as out of all others—without a scratch. The engine, tender and two cars went off. I stuck to my post because I had to, and rolled over with her. The fireman jumped, split his kneecap, and was laid up for some time. The cab was stripped from her, and the rear end of the tank was around by the smokestack when she stopped. I don't know how I got out. I only know that I did, and without a bruise."

Two Peculiar Escapes. "I have had two very peculiar escapes. One occurred some twenty years ago. I don't recall the exact date now, but it was at the time of the biggest general washout that had been known in many years. My regular run was to leave at 9 o'clock at night. But Hank Morris wanted to stay in town that day and asked me to take his train out at 9 o'clock in the morning. Just to accommodate him I did so. It had been storming for three or four days, but the worst of it came on after nightfall. It washed out a bridge at Lawrence, Ill., and of course Hank went into it. It was nothing but a creek ordinarily, but was a sea that night. The fireman was thrown into the water and escaped with but a few bruises, but Hank Morris went down with the engine. It was on my regular run, and had not fortune or fate put the other man on my run for that particular night I would not be here to tell the story. That was a fearful night for the boys on the road. The Northwestern lost five men that night at three different places.

"Another time that I had a narrow escape was some time before the washout. I had the night run and 'Yank' Wellington wanted to stay in town one day, so I changed runs with him. That night, up in Wisconsin, just beyond Sharon station, his engine rode the rail and he was thrown over the fence. It was a long time before he was out again and he never worked much after that.

Entire Train in The Ditch. "I have been very fortunate in the matter of not hitting people on the track. I believe that in the thirty-seven years that I have been running an engine I have killed but three men. I had my train go into the ditch once behind me and turn over, but I got off pretty well in that also. Let me see. I don't remember the exact date, but it was twelve or fourteen years ago. There was a broken rail a mile south

SUNDAY PAPER WAR MADE THINGS HUM

RIVAL TRAINS AND RIVAL BOYS
RACED YESTERDAY.

R. D. Cronk Tried to Hold the Local Trade On His Own Hook While Local Dealers Bought Their Papers of the Companies Direct—Trains Fairly Flew.

A newspaper war raged in Janesville yesterday, and there were two sets of boys hustling for trade. One set was in the employ of H. S. Haggart and the other lot worked for Riley D. Cronk. The running of the new Chicago & Northwestern train has put Chicago papers in the hands of Janesville dealers at a rate which enabled them to sell them for five cents each, while Cronk's price, when the dealers bought them of him, made it necessary to retail them at six cents each. Consequently the local dealers bought the papers of the company direct, and left Cronk, who is a middleman, out in the cold. The price of Sunday papers went back to five cents, and a thriving business was done. Cronk ran a special train from Chicago to Janesville, in competition with the C. & N. W. train, but Janesville dealers bought their supplies from the newspaper companies direct, and Cronk lost the Janesville trade. Then he threatened to bring newsboys up from Chicago with him and run the Janesville crowd out of business. Two Sundays went by without his carrying the threat into effect, but yesterday he kept his word. He didn't bring the boys up from Chicago, but he did hire local boys to sell for him. Then came the tug of war.

Cronk Didn't Sell Many. The opposing boys shouted themselves hoarse and competition was keen. The merest motion of the hand would bring half a dozen rival "kids" scurrying toward the customer. Cronk claimed that he sold three hundred and fifty papers in Janesville yesterday but the local dealers deny it. They claim that his sales did not exceed one hundred and fifty papers and that he had nearly one hundred left on his hands. They also claim that the business was not materially interfered with and that Cronk's effort to get the Janesville trade was a failure. Janesville is accounted one of the best Chicago paper towns in the Northwestern territory and the loss of the trade was quite a blow to Mr. Cronk. Hence his effort to reclaim the territory.

"We have nothing against Mr. Cronk," said a local dealer, "but we can buy our papers direct cheaper than he could sell them to us. When we bought them of him he charged us a price that made it necessary for us to sell them at six cents. This was a great bother to both customer and seller. Many people said they would as lieve pay ten cents as six. Therefore, when we got a chance to buy them cheaper and thus put the price back to the standard, of course we did it."

Race Between Trains. The two trains had a great race from Chicago to Janesville yesterday. From Chicago to Afton horrors were easy and neither train had the better of the contest. The St. Paul train, with Cronk's papers aboard, got the crossing and pulled out for Janesville as fast as the wheels would turn. The Northwestern train was behind just the time that it took the St. Paul train to cross and then they too pulled out for the Bower City. The tracks are side by side and the distance is six miles. The Northwestern train was handicapped by the lead the St. Paul train had gained and in addition their train was composed of four cars and the engine while the St. Paul train was made up of two cars and the locomotive. Both engineers pulled the throttles open to the last notch and came like double-headed lightning. Two long trails of dust followed the two flying trains and the engineers cast anxious, sidelong glances at their flying opponents as they headed up the track. It was nip and tuck, although the St. Paul train had a slight lead, until the city limits were reached. Then the C. & N. W. had a straight course to the depot while the St. Paul train took a curve that made the distance a little longer.

St. Paul Train Won. The St. Paul train reached the depot and stopped but fifty feet ahead of the Northwestern train, and the race took a new form. It was not between iron horses then, but between the sturdy legged news boys. Big bundles of papers were hurriedly ripped open and the boys started on a run for town. In this race, too, honors were easy and the rivals reached the city about the same time. The local dealers had two boys to Mr. Cronk's one, however, and the sales were correspondingly larger. Mr. Cronk is not discouraged, however, but intimated that next Sunday he would give papers away if he couldn't sell them.

Man's Inhumanity To Man.

One of the most inhuman things we know of is for a man to charge too much for a buggy, but there are some in Janesville who are trying to do that very thing, and once in a while they strike some one who takes in all their stuff and they get his money. It's wrong, decidedly wrong. We ask no one to buy from us until they have ransacked every nook and corner of this town and heard all the prices. If we can't name the lowest price for a better buggy, will give it to you. F. A. TAYLOR.

HORSEMEN WAKE UP AND BEGIN WORK

THE RACING SEASON WILL SOON BE HERE.

I. L. Hoover of Clinton Will Remove to Missouri and Joe Bassett Locates at that Town—"Reddy" Gerrity's Good Stable—C. F. Niles Gets Some Fast Ones—Talk of the Flyers

I. L. Hoover, of Clinton, who is quite widely known as a horseman, a temperance worker and part owner of The Clinton Banner, has removed to Missouri. "Joe" Bassett, of Lake Geneva, who is well known to Janesville people as the owner and driver of "Joe Bassett Jr." and other horses, has moved into the house vacated Mr. Hoover. Mr. Bassett is well known as a driver and trainer of trotters, and has frequently raced at Janesville.

"Reddy" Gerrity, of Oshkosh, who is well known to Janesville horsemen, will have a good stable of horses this season. To head the list he will have Albert E. 2:10, which was the champion 3-year-old pacer of 1893. Albert E. met with a mishap at the Detroit summer meeting last season, and he was laid up the rest of the season. This spring he is all right, and Gerrity expects to lower his mark several seconds. He also has Homestake, 2:11, and Ringrose and a number of other good horses. Gerrity campaigned E. F. Carpenter's Dolly H., last season, and is called an exceptionally good reinsman.

Charles Niles, another Oshkosh driver, who is well known here, will have, among other horses, the gray pacer, "Two Strike," the animal that won a heat in Janesville in the free-for-all pacer class but was defeated by Rucker in 2:12 last season. Niles is known as a particularly good man with cranky animals, and is a capable reinsman. He was offered a position as superintendent of the Kitten stock farm at Minneapolis, but as he has a barn full of good horses, he declined the position. Last season he handled Woodlark for D. Mihills of Evansville, and raced his stable here.

Josslyn, the "rigger," whose name is J. R., has been reinstated and will be campaigned this season. He was in "Reddy" Gerrity's string a few years ago and raced in Janesville while on his "ringing" tour. George Garrett, of Milwaukee, sold him to Boston parties who own him now.

Frank Loomis of Stevens Point, will handle B. B. P., 2:12, this coming season. He was very successful with him last season and trotted him in a race here although he made no effort to win.

American Jay, another well known trotter, is owned by John Strange of Menasha. He is a well bred fellow and comes from the same stock as Jay Bird, the Kentucky stallion, which is the sire of the famous Allerton.

BABY CONTEST OPEN! BALLOTS IN DEMAND

THE CONTEST.

Five Shares of Stock in the Rock County Building Loan and Savings Association Will be Given the Winner June 1—Value at Maturity Is $500 and It Is Non Assessable.

The polls for The Gazette contest for the babies is now open and the ballot will be found at the close of this article and will run until June 1, when the contest will close. Much interest is centered in The Gazette's offer to present the baby who gets the highest number of votes with $500 worth of stock in the Rock County Building Loan and Savings Association. It is a prize worth getting, for naturally it will be worth just half a thousand dollars. That will be a nice nest egg if kept at interest after maturity until the child becomes old enough to want to use it.

It will buy an education.
It will buy a building lot.
It will buy a piano and the lessons necessary to play upon it.

It is more than many people are able to save in a life time.
Of course all the mothers and fathers want it for their babe. How to get it is told below:

The polls opened this morning and will remain open until June 1. The baby that receives the most ballots in that time will receive a certificate calling for these five shares of stock. There are no dues to be paid, no assessments to be met, no installments to provide for. The stock stands for $500 in cash and on its maturity, which will be in nine and one-third years, the money will be ready. The prize is a handsome one—it is well worth winning and the conditions of the ballot are as follows:

From March 1 until June 1, a coupon will be printed in each issue of The Gazette.

Any one, anywhere in any state is entitled to vote as often as they buy a copy of The Janesville Gazette containing the above ballot.

Cut the ballot out (trimming on the dotted lines.) Write in the name of your candidate and enclose same in an envelope addressed to Ballot Editor, Gazette, Janesville, Wis.

Only one person can be voted for on one ballot.

The baby who receives the largest number of votes will receive five shares of stock in the Rock County Building & Savings Association, cash value, $500 at maturity.

The contest will close June 1 at 9 p. m., and the stock will be delivered as soon as the count of votes is completed.

Any non-subscriber who will subscribe for The Gazette and pay in advance will be entitled to the following number of ballots:

New subscriber paid in advance one month, 100 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance two months, 250 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance six months, 900 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance one year, 2,000 votes.

Each new subscriber who pays in advance and casts the number of votes specified is also entitled, of course, to cut coupons from the paper from day to day and vote in the regular manner.

No person will be allowed extra votes for stopping his paper and having it sent to another name at the same address.

In every instance they must be bona fide new subscribers.

No person will be allowed to stop his paper on Monday and start it again Tuesday and claim the premium offered.

No votes can be transferred from one candidate to another after being registered in this office.

Candidates must not be more than three years of age March 1, 1895, and must live in Janesville.

A SINGULAR CROP.

How the Cochineal Insect Is Prepared for Purposes of Merchandise.

The cochineal insect is a fat, dark, spherical little creature, looking like a black currant and with neither head, legs, nor tail, to the casual observer. In fact he is so inanimate that one may crush him between finger and thumb without any qualms of conscience. He is nothing but a black currant, sure enough, though the bright carmine or lake excretion from his body which serves him for blood and as for dye, is a better color than the juice of the currant.

It was the cultivation of these pleasant little individuals which, more than a score of years ago, put no less than forty per cent per annum upon investments into the pockets of the cultivators. Such prosperity was too good to last.

The insect was not introduced into Teneriffe until 1825, and for a time it could not be encouraged to propagate successfully. A priest had the honor of being the discoverer of the right method of nurture, and to him it is due that from 1845 to 1866 an annual crop of from 2,000,000 to 6,000,000 pounds of cochineal was produced.

A cochineal plantation has a singular aspect. The larvae, being very delicate and rather thick-witted, have to be tied upon the cactus plant, which is to be their nursery and their nourishment at the same time. Thus one sees hundreds of the shoots of the prickly pear—the cactus in question—all bandaged with white linen, as if they had the toothache.

In this way the insects are kept warm and dry during the winter, and induced to adhere to the plant itself.

When they are full grown they are ruthlessly swept from their prickly quarters, shaken or baked to death, and dried in the sun. The shriveled corpses are then packed in bags and sold as ripe merchandise at about $25 a hundred weight.

PROFIT IN FISH.

A Growing Industry of Raising Them for the Market.

The practice of raising good fish for market has become of late a very profitable industry, and in some parts of the country is being carried out on an extensive scale.

The equipment of a fish farm, as it is called, is a very simple and inexpensive operation. Land which would be valueless for ordinary farming may be used for the purpose, the only requirement being a plentiful supply of good running water. The best site for a fish farm is a hilly or mountainous district where the water runs swiftly and is interrupted by waterfalls, since this serves to aerate and refresh the water. The fish farms are usually provided with three ponds, each of which is reserved for fish of about the same size. As the fish grow they are changed from one pond to another. The fry is usually bought at the state or other hatchery and placed in the first pond. The food for the fish is the principal expense. There are a variety of prepared fish foods on the market, but it has been found that the fish fed with the prepared food have a decidedly beefy flavor. A plan very generally adopted is that of planting the ponds with an abundance of fresh water shrimp. These grow very quickly and soon provide a plentiful supply of wholesome food.

It will be seen that the fish require little attention, and the consequent income from such a crop is almost clear profit. In the season the product of fish farms sells in the market at $1 a pound, and out of season, if the sale be permitted by law, a much higher price may be realized.

ELECTION NOTICE.

OFFICE OF COUNTY CLERK,
JANESVILLE, WIS., March 25, 1895.

To the Electors of Rock County:

Notice is hereby given that a judicial election is to be held in the several towns, wards and election precincts in the county of Rock, on the second day of April, A. D. 1895, at which the officers named below are to be chosen. The names of the candidates for each office to be voted for, whose nominations have been certified to this office, are given opposite the name of the office as designated below:

INFORMATION TO VOTERS:

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters: A voter upon entering the polling place, and giving his name and residence, will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk, which must have endorsed thereon the names or initials of both ballot clerks, and no other can be used. Upon receiving his ballot, voter must retire, alone, to a booth or compartment, and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform a voter as to the proper manner of marking a ballot, but he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for. The voter, to designate the candidates he wishes to vote for, must make a cross (X) in the square at the right of the name of each of such candidates. * * * * * If he wishes to vote for a person for either of the offices designated, whose name is not on the ballot, he must write the name of such person in the blank space under the printed names of the candidates for the office, and make a cross (X) in the square to the right of it. The ballot should not be marked in any other manner. If the ballot be spoiled it must be returned to the ballot clerk, who may issue another in its stead, but not more than three in all to any one voter. Five minutes time is allowed in booth to mark ballot. Unofficial ballots or memorandum, to assist the voter in making his ballot, can be taken into the booth, and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it is marked by the voter. After it is marked it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so the printed endorsements and signatures of the ballot clerks on the outside may be seen. The voter should pass out of the booth, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, and pass out of the voting place. A voter, who declares to the presiding officer, that he is unable to read, or by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, can have the assistance of one or two election officers in marking same, to be chosen by the voter. The presiding officer may administer an oath, in his discretion, as to such person's disability. The names of the candidates for the different offices and the principles represented in the nomination of each candidate are as below set forth.

W. J. MCINTYRE, County Clerk.

Too Much for Him.

Some small boys are said to have a great horror of the bathtub, and are disposed to rebel whenever the time comes for them to get into it. These at least will appreciate the following anecdote, which we cut from an English periodical:

"A young Scotchman at Aldershot fell ill, and was sent to the hospital. A bath was ordered. It was brought into the chamber where the invalid lay. He looked at it hard for some time, and then threw up his hands and bawled: 'Oh, doctor! doctor! I canna drink a' that!'"

After the Ball.

"Did you notice what a lovely complexion Miss McGinnis had at the ball last night?" said a Harlem society man to his chum on the morning after a great social event at the McGinnis mansion.

"I should say so. I found it on the lapel of my coat this morning," was the startling reply.

"Her complexion?"
"Certainly. I had a talk with her toward the end of the ball in the conservatory."—Texas Siftings.

The Last Straw.

Mrs. Knickerbock-Van Avnoo—Do you mean to say that all is lost?

Mr. Knickerbock-Van Avnoo—Every dollar. Nothing can be saved. We must give up this fine house.

"No matter. We will have less care."

"We must give up our horses."

"I can walk."

"And our servants."

"I will do the work myself."

"And—our hyphen."

Then she fainted.—N. Y. Weekly.

This Was a Poser.

Little Margaret was going to a children's party the other day and her mother was telling her some little politenesses to be observed.

"And when you come away," she said, "go up to your little hostess and thank her for giving you a pleasant time."

"But, mamma," objected the small girl, "suppose I don't have a pleasant time; what must I say then?"—N. Y. Times.

A Living Refutation.

"They tell us, colonel," said the northern visitor, "that there is no regard for life in the south, and that lynching prevails there?"

"Well, sir," replied the colonel, "they're a-tellin' you of what ain't so. I've been a-livin' in Georgy thirty years, an' I ain't hung yet!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Do You Ever Bathe

Of course you do. Even the members of the Whitelight club take a bath, in alcohol, once in a while, but they don't use a Knoba bath tub, not because they don't think it the best, but for other good reasons which they don't care to have mentioned. Oh! The Knoba is the bath tub, a gem. No bath tub in the land to equal it, and we are the only ones in the city showing the Knoba.

Indignation at the Reichstag.

London, March 25.—A dispatch to the Times from Vienna says there is a universal expression of unmitigated indignation at the action of the German reichstag toward Prince Bismarck. The Times in an editorial says Saturday's vote injures none but the reichstag itself. The emperor's telegram of sympathy to Prince Bismarck expresses the real sentiment of the German people, who have abundant means of voicing it.

PAY UP THE STOCK OR STAND A SUIT

MORE TROUBLE FOR THE GROWERS' ASSOCIATION.

Organization is Involved In Debt and the Money is Needed—Stockholders Had Only Paid One-Fifth of the Value of Their Holdings—Some Suits Begun—Other City News.

MANY members of the Rock County Tobacco Growers Association are somewhat disturbed owing to notices received to call at the association's office and pay up their stock subscription in full. The shares are $10 each, but only $2 a share was paid at the time of the organization. Many of the growers entertained an idea that no further payment would be required. This idea is no longer entertained, but instead many are studying the question of paying, or standing a law suit. The association is involved in debt, and is obliged to call in this stock money to meet obligations. Some have paid, but many refuse. Suits have been commenced against many of the delinquents. They think they will get the most of the subscriptions, but there a few who have nothing to pay with, and this the association will lose. One or two test cases in court, they argue will convince all that it is better to pay up than to stand a law suit with such odds against them.

As a rule, when a store gives anything away, they put up the price; but we don't. Cuticream always sold for 25 cents a bottle, and will always do so. It sell for that now, and we will give $10 in gold and $5 in gold to the two persons making the most words out of "Cuticream P. & E. C. P. O." by April 1. Prentice & Everson.

In calling the attention of the public to our stock of white goods and embroideries, we want to say that we have given this department of our business our most careful and patient attention and today show the most complete and best assorted stock of white goods in the city. Bort, Bailey & Co.

WHEN the firm of Bort Bailey & Co. offer the public any special bargain, it is an offer worthy the attention of any careful buyer. They do not advertise "hap hazard" but offer lines of good dry goods so cheap that all who see appreciate the bargains and come again.

WARREN PATRICK, who has been in the employ of the water company for some time past, expects to leave the coming week for Chicago, where he will join the Ringling Bros. circus, he having been engaged as head book-keeper.

WE should like to save you a dollar to one dollar and fifty cents. Our $4.00 pants which we will make to your order are just like those offered elsewhere at $5.00 and $5.50. At least a good many of the boys say so. T. J. Ziegler.

THE republican electors will turn out in force this evening at the ward caucuses. The primaries will be held in all the wards at 7:30 o'clock. Let every republican attend and vote for his choice and abide with the majority.

THERE was considerable hustling of republican candidates today. The canvass is good natured, however, all being willing to cheerfully abide by the caucus decisions.

It costs you but 25 cents to join; a bottle of Cuticream and you may get $5 or $10 in cash. Will you take a hand? Prentice & Everson.

SELECT GOOD MEN AND LET THEM ACT

UNINSTRUCTED DELEGATIONS ARE WHAT IS WANTED.

Convention, Not the Caucuses, Should Decide Who the Nominees Will Be and If that Body is Composed of Good Men the Result Will Be Entirely Satisfactory.

The republican caucuses will be held at the various places assigned for the meetings at 7:30 tonight and in this connection The Gazette wishes to say a few words about slate-making.

The practice of making slates or attempting to control caucuses by electing lists of delegates selected by candidates in their own interests, is one of the most pernicious connected with the caucus system. This is especially true concerning the office of mayor, an office, when the party should always seek the man and where party preference is of more vital importance than personal ambition.

The republican party presents this year four names that have been prominently mentioned in connection with the office of mayor, John Thoroughgood, C. D. Child, W. T. Vankirk and John M. Whitehead, all good men and all good republicans. These gentlemen have individually expressed themselves as willing to be perfectly satisfied with the action of the convention. If they are all dropped and a new man selected, they will all submit to the judgment of the party without complaint.

If one of them is nominated the other three will submit just as gracefully. This is the right spirit and should prevail in all contests.

The Gazette does not doubt but that these gentlemen are honest in their statement, and taking them at their word will suggest to the republican voters that there is but one wise course to pursue, and that is to attend the caucuses tonight in force, and elect one at a time, a list of delegates to the convention, that are unpledged and uninstructed.

The convention will be composed of twenty-six delegates, men who if selected with care will represent the best interests of the party, and whose judgment can be trusted. After carefully canvassing the ground they are not likely to err in judgment, concerning the strongest and most available candidate.

The Gazette has nothing to offer, as to who the man shall be. The nominee will be the party's candidate, and as such will be entitled to the most hearty support, which he will receive.

There is one thing that the city convention should do tomorrow in the interest of good municipal government, and that is to abolish the caucus system and adopt the only fair method for nominations, namely the primary election.

The party can well afford to bear the expense, which would not be heavy, and the result would be most satisfactory.

If the polling places could be opened half a day, from 1 to 8 p. m., and inspectors appointed by the city and ward committees, a full vote would be polled and a popular expression of party sentiment would prevail.

If this is not done, and the present caucus system and delegated convention are to continue, the convention should adopt measures for larger representation. The democratic plan of fifteen delegates from each ward is infinitely better than the limited representation now in practice.

The republican party has a bright future. It cannot afford to be hampered in any sense. The governing principles of the party are freedom of thought and action, and every obstacle to the fullest and fairest expression of public sentiment should be removed.

This plea is not prompted by personal ambition or possible gain, for The Gazette is seeking for nothing but the best interests of the republican party. The paper believes that the party has a right to supremacy, and that it will long remain in power if wisely managed. There is a popular demand throughout the rank and file of the party, for the primary election movement. The suggestion will be heartily endorsed by the great mass of voters who have no political ambition and whose voice is never heard, except through the silent ballot. If this estimate of public sentiment is correct, and any observing man will admit that it is, then a radical change should be adopted. The convention possesses the authority to act, and the party has a right to expect that something will be done in the way of reform.

COUNCIL MEETING FOR TONIGHT

But a Quorum Can Hardly Be Expected Under the Circumstances.

A regular meeting of the common council is scheduled for this evening, but the indications are that there will be no quorum present, and consequently no meeting. The republican caucuses will attract the republican members, while Alderman Smith, of the democratic side, is in Chicago, leaving only three members at home unengaged.

MR. BLADON RETURNS TO HIS OLD PLACE

RE-ENTERS THE MERCHANTS' & MECHANICS' BANK.

Samuel L. Smith, Who Succeeded Him Will Leave that Institution to Form a Law Partnership With John M. Whitehead—The Changes Will Go Into Effect on April 1.

William Bladon will resume his old position in the Merchants' & Mechanics' Savings Bank on April 1, while Samuel M. Smith will retire from that institution to enter as a partner in the new law firm of Whitehead & Smith.

Mr. Bladon was connected with the Merchants' & Mechanics' Bank for ten years, previous to his entering The Gazette office, and is well known as a thorough master of the banking business. He was elected cashier of the new Bower City Bank when that company was first formed, but resigned on account of a non-agreement as to the final arrangements. Mr. Bladon has many friends who will be pleased to know that he will remain in Janesville despite the fact that a flattering offer was made him by a Chicago bank. He will assume his new duties in about a week.

Samuel M. Smith, who retires to enter the practice of law, has been in the employ of the bank for the past three years, and in that capacity he has made many friends and an excellent business reputation. He is a graduate of the law school of the University of Wisconsin and took his diploma with high honors. He will form a partnership with John M. Whitehead, who is known as one of Janesville's best lawyers and they will make a strong team. Incidentally Mr. Smith will represent the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company, although the major portion of his time will be devoted to his chosen profession. ## Gallant Custer's Widow.

Mrs. Elizabeth B. Custer, widow of gallant General George A. Custer, whose entire command was annihilated by the Sioux at the memorable battle on the Little Big Horn in 1876, began her successful career as a writer for the sole purpose of giving the public an insight into the true character of her husband. He had become the ideal hero and Indian fighter of the writers of sensational fiction, and Mrs. Custer desired to present a truer picture of him. As she knew him he was a cultured gentleman and a man of strong affections and domestic tastes. He was a fighter, too, but the gentler side of his nature the public was unacquainted with. Therefore Mrs. Custer wrote "Boots and Saddles," which was widely read and most favorably received. She met Custer in 1863, and they were married in 1864.

Increase the discomfort of the voyager. But even when the weather is not tempestuous he is liable to sickness. To the hurtful influence of a tropic, malarious or too rigorous or damp climate, as well as to the baneful effects of unwholesome diet and bad water, it is a reliable antidote. Commercial travelers by sea or land, mariners, miners, western pioneers, and all who have to encounter vicissitudes of climate and temperature, confer in pronouncing it the best safeguard. It prevents rheumatism and pulmonary attacks in consequence of damp and cold, and it is an efficient defense against all forms of malaria. Women have hollow cheeks, dull eyes, low spirits, when they are made miserable with disorders, derangements and weaknesses peculiar to their sex. The big Schenectady engine gave a snort of joy at being released. The wheels began to revolve and with ever-gathering speed the train swept out of the station bearing its human cargo. Those many lives were at the mercy of his hand, but that hand had been true and steady for over a third of a century. The traveling public may well feel secure when courage holds the lever and when experience rides in the cab.

Honesty, Excellence, Faithfulness
Fittingly Rewarded.

(SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.)

Never in the history of medicine has the demand for one particular remedy for female diseases equalled that attained by

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and never in the history of medicine has the demand for it been so great as it is today. From Maine to California, from the Gulf to the St. Lawrence, come the glad tidings of woman's suffering relieved by it; and thousands upon thousands of letters are pouring in from grateful women, saying that it WILL and does positively cure those painful

Ailments of Women.

It will cure the worst forms of female complaints, all ovarian troubles, inflammation and ulceration, falling and displacements of the womb, and consequent spinal weakness, and is peculiarly adapted to the change of life. Every time it will cure

Backache.

It has cured more cases of leucorrhoea by removing the cause, than any remedy the world has ever known; it is almost infallible in such cases. It dissolves and expels tumors from the uterus in an early stage of development, and checks any tendency to cancerous humors.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills work in unison with the Compound, and are a sure cure for constipation and sick-headache. Mrs. Pinkham's Sanative Wash is frequently found of great value for local application. Correspondence is freely solicited by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., and the strictest confidence assured. All druggists sell the Pinkham's remedies. The Vegetable Compound in three forms, — Liquid, Pills, and Lozenges.

NOVELTIES FOR THE WARDROBE.

New Skirts Display Fancy Underskirts.
Hats Grow Smaller and Lower.

The very newest skirt which appeals to fashionable dressers as both becoming and artistic is one cut so as to show the underskirt or petticoat, which must be both handsome and striking, as it helps to make the skirt effective. This latter has a rather sharp gore for the front breadth, and this is left open an inch below the line of the knee. There it meets the second gore, to which it is attached by a smart bow. Below this bow the petticoat shows. In the middle of the skirt behind there is a similar opening, arranged exactly as the other. Altogether there are four such openings round the skirt. It will be readily seen with what telling effect this style can be employed in winter skirts.

There will be a slight lengthening of evening skirts this season, in consequence of the revival of square dances. A new quadrille is being danced something on the lines of the old, only the chief feature is that the dancers at the conclusion of each figure face the general company.

The excessive trimming that appeared on hats earlier in the season is less seen now. Small hats are returning to favor, especially for theater wear, although no woman of really refined taste has ever worn expansive headgear at the play. The toque and small capote are fashionable, the crown being made of chenille, gold passementerie or jet. The ornamental collar matches the hat in color and is often trimmed with bunches of the same sort of flowers as those decorating the hat.

There are shown an innumerable host of collars, plaited vests and chemisettes. They are made with perforated yokes trimmed with lace, or with revers of satin, and may be worn with any gown. Novel arrangements are continually being produced to meet the demand for variety.

The evening gown, of which an illustration is given, is made of pale green satin. The skirt has several large, tapering box plaits, the lower portion of the space between the plaits being embroidered with silk and pearls. The bodice is gathered at the waist and has a narrow empire drapery over the bosom finished with garlands of pearls. The sleeves are of laurel green velvet.

KNITTING WORK AGAIN FASHIONABLE.

A Pretty Frock of Blue and Sapphire for a Little Maid.

Knitted garments of all sorts for children are becoming very general. Some extremely pretty frocks are made of this work. The wheel of fashion turns around continually and brings back styles of fancy work and feminine occupations that have been out of use so long that the present generation has never had time nor opportunity to learn them.

Knitting used to be a fashionable amusement, and it is such a pleasant and pretty one that it is a wonder it ever lost its popularity. But the knitting machine and other modern improvements in manufacturing hose have swept away much of the interesting old time fancy work and have in many cases supplied nothing in their place that is as attractive.

There is nothing more pleasing in the way of fancy work than little knitted socks and sacks for babies. There are a number of ladies who keep these on hand because there are plenty of little ones in the world for whom they make the most appropriate and acceptable gifts. All books on knitting give directions for making them, and they furnish desirable occupation for leisure moments. If one but takes care of the odd times between other pursuits and improves the intervals, there is no lack of dainty knitted articles when the time comes to make a present to a baby.

The first figure in today's picture wears a gown of blue woolen goods trimmed with sapphire velvet. The bell skirt has two deep tucks around the foot and is slightly full at the waist. The bodice is gathered to a small yoke, and a slashed bertha edged with velvet surrounds the yoke. The plain collar and the belt are of velvet, as are the cuffs of the gigot sleeves. The second figure wears a cloak of dahlia cloth. The front of the garment is mounted in plaits on a square yoke of dahlia velvet, buttoning at the side with large pearl buttons. The back is laid in hollow plaits, and a wide velvet belt holds the fullness to the figure behind, passing under the plaits in front. A large velvet collar covers the shoulders, and there are a small turndown collar and turned back cuffs of velvet.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

Leather bodices are uniquely worn with velvet skirts and check woolen materials, and the hard effect of the leather is often softened by a new lattice trimming of chenille, made sometimes to resemble a bolero jacket.
